Robbers Attempt to Wreck an L. E. & W. Express Train and Ditch an Accommodation.

LIMA, O., May 4.-An attemps was made last night to wreck the west-bound express on the Lake Erie & Western road, due at Lima at 9:25 P. M. A heavy shipment of money was on the train and that was what the wreckers were after. The attempt was made about three-quarters of a mile west of Paxton, one of the most desolate pieces of territory along the line. At the foot of a grade, near a curve, an obstruction of ties spiked together was placed across the track. The would-be robbers lay in ambush. The express train was behind time and the right of way was given to a second-class passenger train. This train came against the obstruction and the engine and two coaches were ditched. No one was injured, but great excitement prevailed. A heavy freight train was following the accommodation closely. The flagman started back, and had proceeded about one hundred feet when he was enddenly confronted by the highwayman with revolvers, and compelled to return to the wreck. The robbers thought it was his intention to flag the express, which they had planned to rob. The brakeman notified the train crew, who started in a body, and were not molested. After stopping the freight the alarm was sent over the wire to both Paxton and Peoria. Great excitement prevailed at both places, and a posse was promptly organized for the purpose of scouring the surrounding country in search | the bill. of the fugitives.

WOKE UP THE BRITISHERS

Mr. Coudert's Argument Before the Behring Sea Arbitrators Continued.

One of His Statements Denied in Chorus by the English Counsel-Evil of Pelagic Sealing-Debate on the German Army Bill.

MR, COUDERT'S ARGUMENT.

The American Lawyer Scores Several Points for Uncle Sam's Side of the Seal Dispute. Paris, May 4 .- Mr. F. R. Condert continued his argument in behalf of the United States to-day before the Behring sea tribunal of arbitration. Mr. Condert analyzed the joint report of the commissioners appointed by Great Britain and the United States to ascertain the facts in relation to seal life in Behring sea and the measures necessary for its proper protection and prevention. Mr. Condert urged that the pelagic sealers, in killing a gravid female, destroyed three animals, and then frequently did not obtain a skip as a result of this slaughter, the creature that the sealers slew often sinking into the sea and thus escaping them. Mr. Condert humorously described the refusal of the female seals to suckle pups that had been orphaned through the slaughter of their mothers by the pelagic sealers, and caused considerable merriment among the listeners. There was a frequent exchange of repartee between Baron De Courcel, president of the tribunal, and Mr. Condert.

Mr. Condert proceeded to prove that there could be no commingling of the seal herds of Alaska with those of Asiatio Russia. Furriers easily distinguished the Alaskan from the Russian skins and charged higher prices for the Alaskan. Mr. Coudert read affidavits in support of these assertions. He enlarged upon the natural history of the seal, replying with admirable readiness to a series of questions addressed to him by the members of the tribunal of arbitration. In response to a question by Baron De Courcel, Mr. Condert said that Copper island seals caught by the pelagic sealers came to the market as having been caught in Japan The British counsel exclaimed in chorus:

That is quite wrong." Mr. Condert answered: "We have ample proof that it's true. We have proof also that three-fourths of the total number of skins sold are those of females." Mr. Coudert read evidence in support of his statement.

Lord Hannen, one of the British arbi-trators, asked: "During the preparation of the skins is anybody's attention called to the distinction between male and female

Mr. Condert continued to read affidavits in support of his statement, whereupon the president, Baron De Courcel, said: "Lord Hannen's question is unanswered. I sup-pose nobody could answer it?" Mr. Condert-If nobody can, then I can-not, but I should not like to admit by silence my inability to answer the question. Mr. Coudert went on to show that the sex of the seals naturally presented itself to those engaged in preparing the skins. Mr. Coudert quoted the French furrier, Revillou, as saying that the sex could not be distinguished from the skins, but, he said, he would produce overwhelming proof to Recurring to the question of the territorial limits within which the seals were caught, Mr. Condert contrasted the statements of a British sealing captain to the effect that the animals were never found ten miles from land, with the evidence of another British witness to the effect that he had found seals at distances of between ten and 150 miles from the coast.

WARM DEBATE ON THE ARMY BILL. Herr Richter Scores Caprivi and His Measure-The Reichstag to Be Dissolved. BERLIN, May 4.- The discussion of the army bill was continued in the Reichstag to-day. Herr Richter, leader of the Deutsche Freisinnige party, declared that the party would not accept the compromise agreed upon by Freiherr Von Huene, the chief objection being that the concession of the two years' active service limit would be subject to the good will of the government, which would be enabled after a period of five years to demand a new increase of the army and thereby to compel additional concessions on the part of the Reichstag. Herr Richter vigorously assailed Chancellor Caprivi for attempting, as Herr Richter described it, to tyrannize over the Reichstag by parading the opinions of military experts. Herr Richter protested in vehement language against what he characterized as the slighting remarks uttered by Chancellor Caprivi regarding the laborious studies which the committee of the Reichstag on the army bili had devoted to the question. The theory of the Imperial Chancellor, said Herr Richter, to the effect that the military strength of Germany should be as great as the population of Germany permitted was untenable. It meant a doub-ling of the military forces of Germany, and it meant the putting of the empire on the high road to being militarized, as Prussis already was. [Loud applause.] "Yet Prussia," continued Herr Richter, "is unble to provide a few hundred thousands for educational and ecientific purposes while the military swallows a million." Here the speaker was again interrupted by loud applause on the part of the opponents of the army bill, accompanied by upsupporters. Facing those who dissented from his utterances. Herr Richter exclaimed: "What is the use of patriotism to a man with nothing to eat?"

Upon the conclusion of Herr Richter's attack upon the army bill Chancellor Von Caprivi, who had listened calmly to the Freisinnige leader's arguments against the measure, proceeded to the tribune and delivered a calm and unpassionate reply to his opponent. The Chancellor declared that the increase in the peace effective agreed upon was absolutely essential to safeguard the empire. The government, he said, would adopt the proposal of Freiherr Von Huene and would use it as a plank in their electoral platform should the dissolution of the Reichstag become una-

Herr Bebel, the Social Democratic leader, repeated and emphasized the arguments of Herr Richter. Herr Bebel solemnly warned Chancellor Caprivi against what he termed a revolution from above. "If." exclaimed Herr Bebel, "the government should attempt such a revolution, the people of Germany will quickly reply with a revolution from below.

After the debate in the Reichstag was adjourned numerous party caucuses were held. Chancellor Caprivi went away from the session in good humor, as secoders from the Dentsche Freissinnige party continue inclined to vote with Freiherr Von Huene. and if he can secure twelve votes from the Center, the Chaucellor counts upon a small majority for the bill. On the other hand the Alsatian Deputies have arrived in full force, vowing that they will vote against

At the meeting of the Bundezrath, or Federal Conneil, to-day, Chancellor Caprivi announced that the Emperor had signed the rescript dissolving the Reichstag, and was only awaiting the rejection of the army bill to promulgate the rescript.

PACIFIC NEWS FROM CUBA. Leading Insurgents Reported to Be Laying Down Their Arms. MADRID, May 4.- The news received here from Havana yesterday that the chief Cuban rebeis had surrendered has been received with expressions of profound relief in political and financial circles. Spanish funds rallied I per cent. to-day and Cuban stocks 4 per cent. Official dispatches continue to represent the separatist movement as completely checked. The press censures the conduct of the United States authorities in allowing Cuban exiles to make a demonstration from Florida. Manuel Sartorius, when he surrendered, confessed frankly that he had yielded because he discovered the leading filibusters had deceived him in profeesing to have the support of the most powerful classes in the eastern districts. thousands were ready to join in the upris-ing, but soon discovered his mistake. His brother Ricardo was permitted to return to the mountains, and already he has induced Galle and other conspicuous insurgents to lay down their arms. Advices from Havana, late this evening, while to the effect that the separatist movement has collapsed, show that the authorities continue to observe every precantion for checking any renewal of hostilities from Key West or San Domingo, where the exiles are still blustering and threatening.

Advices Received by Gresham. WASHINGTON, May 4 .- Secretary Gresham has received a letter from the United States consul-general at Havana, dated April 29, forwarding a copy of the proclamation issued April 28 by the Governor-general of Cuba, already published, declaring the province of Santiago de Cuba in a state of slege. The reason given for the declaration is that some bands of men have risen in arms against the government in the hamlets of Puernce and Velasco, near the north coast of that province, for the immediate suppression of which active military means are now being taken by the government. The consul-general says that. according to the newspapers, these bands number about one hundred persons. While rumor gives their number all the way from five hundred to seven hundred men. This letter was the first official information received by the State Department with regard to the Cuban trouble. Secretary Gresham said this morning that no telegrams had come to him to-day and he had not been advised of the reported surrender of the insurgents' bands as given in press dispatches. There is no filibustering movement in Florida.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

The Breach in the British Women's Temperance Association Likely to Widen. LONDON, May 4.- The meeting of the British Women's Temperance Association to-day was of a very exciting character and attended by evidences of temper and even ebullitions of passion. The delegates seemed hardly able to control their feelings and their tongues, and a feverish feeling pervaded the assemblage. It is expected that, owing to the vote of yesterday reelecting Lady Somerset as president and thereby virtually indorsing her proposition to bring politics into the association, 175 branches of the association will secode. It is stated that the secretary of the convention, feeling that she has been insulted, has gone home in a passion. Two hundred of the delegates to the present gathering will, it is reported, hold a meeting in the Rev. Dr. Parker's Temple, refusing to assemble again under the same roof as the "Somerset party." as they call the majority that re-elected Lady Somerset.

CARLYLE HARRIS MUST DIE

The Wife-Poisoner's Application for Clemency Denied by Governor Flower.

Sentence of Electrocution Will Be Carried Out Next Week, Unless a Respite Is Granted-How Harris Received the News.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 4 .- Governor Flower has denied the application for clemency for Carlyle W. Harris and Harris will be electrocuted during the week beginning Monday next. The Governor, after reviewing the important points of evidence, concludes as follows: "This inquiry into the case by the examination of witnesses and otherwise, leaves no doubt in my mind as to my official duty. I have endeavored to give to the application for elemency that impartial and conscientions study which the fate of any human life demands and which the popular interest in this case certainly calls for. But so far as jury and court could determine Harris was guilty of a beingus crime, revolting in its conception and in the depravity of its perpetrator, and no estisfactory considerations have been presented to the executive to justify his intervention in the execution of the sentence. The application for clemency is therefore denied.

Harris Receives the News Calmly. Sing Sing, N. Y., May 4.-At 1 o'clock this afternoon Warden Durston received a message from the Governor's private secretary saying that the Governor would not interfere in the Harris case. Warden Durston immediately went to the prison to notify Harris. As the warden approached his cell Harris arose from his iron cot and pressed forward to the grating. In low. solemn tones, yet with a kindly intonation, the new warden, whom he had never before seen, told the young wife poisoner of the Governor's refusal to interfere in his behalf. Harris, according to the warden, exhibited little emotion. A spasmodio clutch at the bars that shut out life, liberty and all hope of future earthly happiness might have been noticed momentarily. but instantly the young man nerved him-"Have I the privilege of seeing my mother again?" he asked in faltering tones, "before-before-?" Then came a moment of silence that the compassionate warden hesitated to break in upon. "Certainly," replied the warden.

"Then please telegraph her to come and see me as soon as possible," he whispered and turned away despair ngly. The warden said, on his return to the office. "I have seen a great many men in desperate positions, but never before have I seen a man so cool under like circumstances," Will Apply for a Respite. NEW YORK, May 4.- Lawyer Hummel, one of Carlyle W. Harris's attorneys, received the first news of the Governor's decision from a reporter. He said an application would be made for a respite of about thirty days, "Harris's nerves have been at a high tension since he went to Sing Sing," said Mr. Hummel, "and he should be given time to prepare for death. We are all surprised by the Governor's decision, as Mr. Howe had confidently expected his sentence would be commuted. Further than that I believe there is nothing to say."

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FORT WAYNE, Ind., May 4 .- Every seat in the auditorium of the Second Presbyterian Church was filled, this morning, when Mrs. Smart, President of the Indiana Union of Literary Clubs, called the session to order. Mr. Allan Hendricks, of Indianspolis, read a paper on "The Literary Example and Influence of Tennyson." A general discussion took place on Mr. Hendricks's paper, Mrs. Elliott Perkins, Mrs. McCulloch and Miss Catherine Merrill, of Indianapolis, and Mr. 1liff, of Richmond, taking part. Following this, a discussion of "Our School System" was taken up by the delegates. Mrs. Louise Boyd, of Dublin, addressed the audience on "Woman's Influence as Teachers, Superintenden ts and Memuers of School Boards." Her address was witty, and she kept the audience in a state of laughter by her sharp hits and amusing sayings. "The time when you could pick out a schoolteacher by her looks is gone," she said. 'The teachers of to-day are better fitted for holding the position of superintendent, and possess more qualifications of the position of educators, than in the days of our grandfathers. In many States women hold the positions of superintendents, trustees, and members of school boards, and in simost every instance they perform the duties better than men. The women of to-day are heroic, and can stand as many trials and disappointments as

The next speaker was Mrs. Helen F. Guila, of this city, who read a paper on the influence of the Club Woman on the School System." Prof. R. G. Boone followed in the discussion of the theme, "Our School System." Miss Elma Graves, of Richmond, read a paper on "The Influence leacher in Civilization two-hour discussion followed, which was opened by Mrs. T. F. Rose, of Muncie. The session this afternoon commenced with 'The World's Congress of Representative Women," by Mrs. May Wright Sewall, of Indianapolis, and was by far the most important address of the day. Following this address the exhibition of art schools was given by the Fort Wayne Art School. To-night the Second Presbyterian Church was crowded to hear Col. Richard W. Thompson, of Terre Haute, who delivered an address on "Adams, Jackson and Clay."

OPERATORS FIND EXCUSES. They Claim the Action of a Few Miners Has Caused All the Trouble. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 4.- The miners' convention to-day decided to submit the question of a strike for an increase of 5 cents a ton in the Indiana bituminous mines to the local assemblies. There are thirty-six local assemblies in the State, and in each of these a vote will be taken whether or not to go to work at last year's prices. The result will be canvassed in this city next Monday, and the majority will decide. The operators believe that if the majority should vote for a strike some of the minority will sign the old scale, though by doing so they will retire from the United Mine Workers' organization. In the meantime only a few of the six thousand miners in the State will be at work. The operators are incensed at the fallure of the men to continue at work during this first week in the scale year, which they claim was the agreement last Saturday when it was seen that a scale could not be agreed on in time. There is considerable misunderstanding on that score, and it is serving to intensify the feeling of opposition on both sides.

Frightful Mishap to Mrs. Stearns Fisher, an Aged Widow, at Wabash. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WABASH, Ind., May 4 .- Mrs. Harriet L. Fisher, widow of the late Hon. Stearns Fisher, for many years a prominent citizen of Indiana, was probably fatally burned at her home, in this city, last evening. While going through the wash house carrying a lamp she fell, and the lamp breaking to pieces covered her with the ignited oil. She ran to a refrigerator and threw water on the flames which enveloped her, but she could not extinguish the blazes, and her dress was burned off. Neighbors finally came to the rescue and smothered the fire. but she is so badly burned about the back and arms that the physicians think she will die. Mrs. Fisher is a near relative of State Senator Loveland and Hon. H. Brownlee. She is eighty-three years old.

NELLIE PAYNE'S TRIAL

All the Evidence Goes to Tighten the Coils About the Fair Prisoner. Special to the Indianapolis Journal

FOWLER, Ind., May 4.—The Payne trial is progressing again. Court convened this morning, and the evidence of three doctors was to the effect that the defendant was in aufficient health to go on with her case. The testimony elicited to-day was very strong against the prisoner, especially that given by Geo. Richmire, Parnham Parker, Frederick Richmire, Henry M. Clark, Wm. Fields and George W. Robinson. It all went to show the acts of the defendant, history of the search for the revolver in water closet, the continual opposition of defendant to having an investigation of the premises in the back yard, and her consent that the dwelling house might be examined. The actions of the defendant when told that the revolver was found were also brought ont. Witness Richmire told ber, "We have found the revolver you shot Jim Payne with," but said the statement made no impression on her. The evidence to-day winds the coils closely around the defendant, and her chance of escape seems hardly possible. To-morrow the testimony of Mr. Payne will be taken. This is expected to be the strongest against the prisoner, and will conclude the evidence for the State. The defense has about thirty witnesses, but as yet the line of defense is a mystery.

The programme was otherwise carried out as announced. The address of welcome came just after the Daughters of Rebekah had given a first degree. It was delivered by Hon. Marshall Hacker, of this city, and was responded to by Grand Master Hogate, of Danville. Degrees were given by lodges from Indianapolis, Seymour, Columbus, Greensburg and Faith Lodge, of this city. The attendance exceeded one thousand, and a parade, led by the Greensburg band, was given. They returned to Muncle the following Saturday and intended to make this city their home, but on Sunday his pretty little wife, unknown to him, packed her trunk and left for Daleville, where she is now working. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. Gas CITY, Ind., May 4.- Two more important industries have been added to Gas City's list of manufactories. Yesterday the preliminary papers were signed to bring here the plant of the American Electricalsupply Company. The concern will manufacture porcelain electrical apparatus on an extensive scale. The business is similar to the manufacture of encaustic tile. Two acres of ground will be occupied by brick buildings. Ample capital is back of the enterprise, and it is the avowed intention to increase the facilities of the plant the business fulfills expectations. One hundred men will be employed at the beginning, and the concern will be in operation by the 1st of August. The second factory located to-day is the Western brass works, which removes here from Michigan. This concern has a business which keeps it running night and day where it now is, but the proprietors want to get in the gas belt. They will erect substantial brick buildings here, and will employ seventy-five adult bands in the manufacture of brass lamps, brass distillery fixtures and other brassware. Work upon their plant here will begin next Mon-

Shaefer, trustees of the Indiana Home for Feebleminded Youth, have spent the day at the institution. He will order an investigation at once and will instruct Secretary Johnson to call together the State Board of Charities and a committee will be appointed from them which will make a full inspection of everything con-nected with the asylum. It will probably be held next week.

The Governor to-night expressed himself as satisfied with the affairs of the institute as he saw them to-day, but will continue the investigation. The Governor left for Indianapolis to-night.
